Symptoms

Of Defective Vision

Many persons have the idea that defective vision manifests itself only in a failure or inability to see clearly, but itching, burning, smarting of the lids, dull pains in the eyes or head, even the back of the head, all come from irregularities in the optical construction of the eyes and may be entirely relieved by correctly fitted glasses.

DR. J. T. JOHNSON Guarantees to correct every case that he undertakes. If your eyes are giving annoyance consult him at once.

NOTICE OF DIVIDEND.

Southern Stock Mutual and Underwriters Insurance Companies

On the 19th of January, the two Greensboro fire insurance companies, Southern Stock-Mutual and Underwriters, delared dividends o their policy-holders of 20 per cent. The scrip certificates have not been delivered as heretofore for the following reason. Last year prompt delivery was made and policy-holders were enjoined to "attach to policy and deposit in place of safety"; but a few were lost or misplaced, and the managers have concluded to hold the scrip in their possession from this time on and assume all risk for their safekeeping. As the scrip mature they will be presented for endorsement and will then be redeemed. Any policy-holder who prefers to hold his scrip at his own risk, can get it by calling at the office of Wharton & McAlister on court square.

We have just seen a copy of an attractive publication recently made by the managers of these insurance companies, which shows among other interesting data that in the last four years they have returned over $20,000.00 in dividends to their policy-holders. This publication contains such testimonials as the following:

Lancaster, S. C., Feb. 4, 1899.

During the last two years certain properties in which I am interested have been insured in the Southern Stock-Mutual Insurance Company, of Greensboro, N. C. The dividends received from the company have amounted to $105.40, representing the amount saved by insuring in this company. [Signed] LeRoy Springs.

Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 6, 1899.

I have been carrying several policies in the Underwriters of Greensboro during last year and my dividends have saved me $17 91 in the cost of my insurance. P. M. Brown.

These companies are assuming proportions and wielding an influence which our people did not dream of when they made their modest beginnings. We doubt if Greensboro has ever projected anything better. Long life and prosperity to them.

THE RECKLESS TENTH.

Forced One Man to Commit Suicide—Killed Another.

Further particulars in regard to the conduct of the Tenth Immunes were received here yesterday, says the News and Observer. Between Atlanta and Monroe they shot Flagman Sam Sealy in the heel, inflicting a painful wound.

At Monroe they raided the dispensary, carrying off some seventy-five pachages of whiskey. And at Henderson they came near killing an old white man named Crozier.

In Weldon, the last point at which they stopped in this state, their conduct was the worst. At the point of a pistol they forced John Battle, a worthy colored man, to drink seven glasses of whiskey. Battle fell down senseless soon after drinking the liquor and died before a physician could be summoned.

KILLED AN OLD NEGRO.

Weldon, N. C. March 10 -The negro troops, Tenth Immunes, who passed through here last evening, behaved in a most disgraceful manner. At the point of pistols they forced John Battle, a worthy colored man, to drink seven glasses of whiskey. Battle fell down senseless soon after drinking the liquor and before a doctor could be summoned he was dead.

The riotous troops also forced their way into stores and saloons and fired at a switchman.

The negroes killed a fine Jersey cow belonging to a poor woman soon after leaving Henderson. The greatest indignation is expressed at their action here and elsewhere along the line.

ANOTHER MAN NEARLY KILLED.

Henderson, N. C. March 10—There came near being a battle here yesterday when the negro troops (Tenth Immunes) passed through on their way to Washington from Macon, Ga.

They displayed their pistols and whiskey bottles in about equal numbers, drinking from the one and popping away from the car windows with the other.

An old man named Crozier came near being killed A very valuable Jersey cow near the edge of the town was shot dead.

As the train pulled out a regular fusillade was fired from the cars.

Had the shooting occurred nearer the center of town, our citizens would have risen and the result would have been more serious.

It is reported that Mr. Carter, who owned the cow that was killed, telegraphed and had the train stopped and the negro who shot the cow arrested.

The troops on the second section of the train were not so disorderly.

"THE MAKING OF LITERATURE."

Mr. Page's Lecture at the Normal Last Night.

North Carolina has one son in the literary world of today of whom she justly feels proud. No North Carolinian has, in recent years at least, risen to such a place of honor and popularity, in literary circles as has Walter H. Page, of Moore county, who is now editor of the Atlantic Monthly, one of the leading magazines of America. A Greensboro audience had the pleasure, at the State Normal and Industrial College, last night, of hearing him for the second time, and as was expected, the chapel was packed by a select and intelligent audience.

Mr. Page lectured on "The Making of Literature," a grand subject which he dealt with in a grand and knowing manner. To quote from the lecture, without quoting at length, would do the brilliant Carolinian an injustice. Throughout, his words were laden with rich thought, expressed in a terse and catchy way, holding the rapt attention of his audience and frequently drawing a hearty applause.

Mr. Page spoke but a few minutes more than an hour, and a very short hour it seemed. After the lecture Dr. McIver announced that the audience might remain in the chapel another hour and spend the time in social enjoyment. A large number of people met Mr. Page during that time.

HAS DROPPED OUT OF SIGHT

Ex-Congressman Martin Moves On The Quiet

GONE TO THEIR COUNTRY HOMES

Senators Pritchard Butler—But They Will Visit Washington Frequently During The Recess.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Mar. 11—So far as can be learned all of the members of the North Carolina delegation have returned to their homes, or to other portions of the state. The only member who cannot be accounted for here is Ex-representative Martin, and at his boarding place in this city no one seems to know whether he is in North Carolina or Washington, but as he cannot be found the presumption is that he has returned to the state. Mr. Martin, it will be remembered did not come to Washington at the beginning of the session of congress and did not put in his appearance until after the holiday recess. He now appears to have entirely dropped out of sight again, so far as his friends in this city are concerned.

Senator Butler and wife left for their home early in the week and Senator Pritchard has removed, with his family to his country home at Marshall, North Carolina. Representatives Fowler, Kitchin, White and others are all in the state. Senator Pritchard who has much business in Washington to be attended to announced before leaving for Marshall that he would return to Washington shortly, and would come to this city very often during the recess of congress. Senator Butler, will also, it is expected be in the city at intervals during the summer and fall, as he has much here to occupy his time and attention. The only two members of the present delegation who have been re-elected are White and Kitchin. The latter will, it is stated, be a frequent visitor to the national capital during the interval before the assembling of the fifty-sixth congress.

Several of the private secretaries of the members of the North Carolina delegation are still in Washington. About the best known of these young men is Mr. Hyams, the secretary to Senator Pritchard, who has made many friends since his residence in this city. He will remain in Washington during the greater part of the time before the assembling of congress.

It was stated at the white house the other day that the appointment of a judge to succeed Judge Ewart might not be made until the return of President McKinley from his trip to the home of Senator Hanna, in Georgia. If this is the case the appointment may be delayed for two or three weeks. The impression among North Carolina people is that Ewart will be re-appointed, though it is not absolutely certain. It was stated yesterday that the petition of Senator Pritchard, which was referred to early in the week, instead of containing the signatures of forty-six senators, who would have voted for confirmation, had the names of only forty-five senators, which would have been exactly one-half of the senate, and would have left the deciding vote with the vice-president had a vote been reached by the senate.

In some newspapers the presumption seems to be that a minority leader in the house of representatives is "elected." This is an error. The minority, as in the case of Mr. Bailey two years ago, nominates a candidate for speaker of the house, which nomination carries with it the right to be recognized on the floor by the speaker, as the leader of the minority. The contest is not to be strictly a contest for the minority leadership, but is for the democratic nomination for speaker. It is believed that most of the North Carolina democrats will support Richardson, of Tennessee.

At the disbursing office of the house of representatives it is stated that all the claims in connection with the funeral of the late Representative Dingley have been paid. The clerk, Mr. McDowell, says the bills were very low, only a trifle over one thousand dollars.

Postmasters have been appointed in North Carolina as follows:

William H. Simmons, Bennett, Anson, vice J. E. Jones, dead; R. M. Norment, Lumberton, Robeson, vice John H. Wishart, removed; N. H. Holland, Pinkney, Wayne, vice E. S. Dees, resigned; Louisa J. Maxwell, Solitude, Ashe, vice John B. Lewis, resigned; William A. Blane, Surl, Person, vice E. B. Lunsford, dead.

Special service in North Carolina has been discontinued at Gale, Ashe county, from Algiers, to take effect March 31, 1899.

J. H. Bell, of Newbern, is in Washington for a few days and is stopping at the St. James hotel. He is accompanied by his wife and child.

Among other North Carolina people in Washington are E. D. Stanford, of Yadkinville, and James Kyle, of Wilmington. The former is registered at the National hotel and the latter at the St. James.

SATURDAY, MARCH 11, 1899.

The following from an article in the North American Review for February on the awakening of China brings out a type of citizenship into bold and surprising relief in that country of intrigue and superstition:

Everyone who considers the matter carefully must be deeply impressed by the evidence here given that the sentiments of reform have so considerable hold on the educated young men of China, and that they are animated by a pure patriotism and high personal aims. It is said that the six companions of Kang Yu Wei who have suffered death at the hands of the Empress, all of high rank and position, friendly to reform, familiar with the life and learning of other nations, might have saved themselves if they had preferred life to honor and country. One of them, Kang Kuang Jen, a brother of Kang Yu Wei, being offered protection in a foreign Legation, is reported to have replied; "No reform can succeed but by the shedding of blood; I am ready to die" Their death for devotion to reform and what they deemed the welfare of the nation, sheds a real lustre on the Chinese name, and adds to the common wealth of the world. A cause for which such men are willing to die cannot perish in their destruction; others will arise with the same spirit to take up their cause, and in a happier time, under more favoring conditions, perchance, will see it carried on to victory.

This spirit does not, as a rule, appeal in vain to the civilized world, at least to the Anglo-Saxon part of it, although there are other nations that seem to have opinions on the subject. The survival of the fittest will probably govern the result.

Publishing House building on South Elm street, beginning on the 27th day of March and continuing to within ten days of said election, for the purpose of registering those who are entitled to register in the said city election.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. Sold by C. E. Holton

A sitting angel statue in Italian marble will be erected by the Daughters of the Confederacy over Miss Winnie Davis, grave, at Richmond, Va.

Before the discovery of One Minute Cough Cure, ministers were greatly disturbed by coughing congregations. No excuse for it now. Howard Gardner's

As the season of the year when pneumonia, la grippe, sore throat, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing "is a fine substitute," will "answer the purpose," or is "just as good" as One Minute Cough Cure. That is the one infallible remedy for all lung, throat or bronchial troubles, Instst vigorously on having it if "something else" is offered you. Howard Gardner

Rev. E. Edwards, pastor of the English Baptist Church at Minersville, Pa., when suffering with rheumatism, was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Should any sufferer profit by giving Pain Balm a trial it will please me." For sale by C. E. Holton.

Discovered by a Woman

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hammick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

For Parents and Teachers.

The moral effect of early acquaintance with scientific truth is illustrated by a little story which the Rev. Dr. Plumb tells in the Boston Transcript:

A millionaire brewer, a senator in another state, said to Mrs. Hunt, "I shall vote for your bill. I have sold out my brewery, and am clean from the whole business. Let me tell you what occurred at my table. A guest was taken dangerously ill at dinner—insensible—and there was a call for brandy to restore him. My little boy at once exclaimed, 'No, that is just what he don't need! It will paralyze the nerves and mucles of the blood vessels so they will not send back the blood to the heart.'

"When the liquor was poured out to give the man, the lad insisted on pushing it back.

"You will kill him; he has too much blood in his head already.'

"How did you know all that?" his father afterward asked.

"Why it is in my physiology at school."

It seems the text-books prepared by such men as Prof. Newell Martin, F. R S, of Johns Hopkins University, had succeeded in giving the lad some definite information which was proving useful.

"Senator," said Mrs. Hunt, "are you sorry your boy learned that at school?"

"Madam," the man replied, raising his hand, "I would not take five thousand dollars for the assurance this gives me that my boy will never be a drunkard"

We have clipped this from the Youth's Companion to illustrate the effect of the temperance education that is going on in our public schools, and also to recognize the fact that the book referred to and published by the W. J. C. Dulany Company, is in use in all the schools of Maryland. May this kind of education continue until not a boy in the state will touch the vile and iniquitous stuff.—Supt. of Press Work Greensboro W. C. T. U.

WINE OF CARDUI

WOMEN WHO WORK.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 12.
Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved.
MISS MARGARET WALSH.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhœa, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

Curious, isn't it, how a bright sunny day brings the Baby Carriages and Go-Carts on the floor?

In every store visited Friday (and what a beautiful day it was, too:) these articles were to the fore. One store had 4 different styles on view, another had 3, and so on. The oddest thing I noticed was that the Southside store (BLOXTON & JENNINGS) had the most. Are there more babies out that way? The supply is usually governed by the demand. Their demand is from all parts of the city.

Opening of the Social Season and Inauguration of the Magnificent

New York & Florida Limited Service

JANUARY 16, 1899.

The opening of the Florida season will be signalized this year as usual by the placing in service of the "New York and Florida Limited" between New York and St. Augustine, Fla. This is acknowledged to be the finest train in the world, in its appointments, luxury and detail of finish, and the first of these trains was constructed by the Pullman company for the use of the President of the United States on official tours.

"The New York and Florida Limited" leaves New York daily except Sunday at 11:50 a. m., via the pennsylvania Railroad, the Southern Railway, Florida Central & Peninsular R. R. and the Florida East Coast Railway, and reaches St. Augustine at 2.20 p. m. the following day, making the run, which exceeds 1,000 miles, in little more than twenty-four hours. No train has attracted so much attention, and its fame has been heralded wherever railroading is known. It is composed of Pullman compartment cars, each room being finished in different woods and supplied with private lavatory and toilet; Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars of the latest pattern and finish; a royal club car for the gentlemen; an observation car with a handsome drawing room at its rear opening on to a wide platform; a library car, and dining car, in which the service and the cuisine rank with the finest New York hotels. This "New York and Florida Limited" runs through solid to St. Augustine with the exception of one car which is detached at Columbia, S. C, and goes through to Aiken, which it reaches at 9:35 the next morning after leaving New York, and Augusta at 9:50. Brunswick and Jeckyl Island are conveniently reached by this train at 1? o'clock noon through the perfect connections afforded at Everett, Ga.

There are two other fine trains between New York ond Florida via "The Florida Short Line," one the "Washington and Southwestern Vestibule Limited," leaving New York at 4:20 p. m. daily, and the "United States Fast Mail," leaving New York at 12:05 midnight. The former train carries through Pullman drawing room sleeping cars between New York, Jacksonville and Tampa, and also offers Pullman sleeping car service between New York and Augusta, Ga., with connections for Aiken, Brunswick and Jekyl Island. The latter carries through drawing room sleeping cars between New York and Jacksonville, connecting with parlor car service to points on F. C. & P. R. R. and F. E. C. Ry. Dining cars are operated on all trains of the Southern Ry. "The Florida Short Line" in connection with the Florida East Coast Railway to Miami offers the most direct, quickest and delightful service to Nassau, Havana and Key West. For full information, reservations, etc., apply to J. L. Adams, G. E. A., F. C. & P. R. R., 353 Broadway, New York, or to A. S. Thweatt, E. P. A., Southern Ry, 271 Broadway, New York.

Early French Theaters.

The French theater owes its origin to the religious exhibitions given by the pilgrims on their return from Palestine. At these exhibitions the pilgrims gave an account of the Holy Land and recited their own adventures. They were afterward imitated by those who had never been to the Holy Land. To these succeeded dramatic representations of subjects taken from the new text, which, being forbidden by the provost of Paris, the priests of France invited the king to be present at an exhibition to prove that they were calculated to excite religious feelings.

The building in which those plays were produced was divided into three scaffoldings—the highest represented paradise, the second the world and the lowest, which was in the form of a dragon's head, represented hell. The only entrance to the two upper scaffoldings was through the dragon's head.

The actors never left the stage, even to change their dress, and the plays were so long as to require several days for their completion. At the close of each evening the audience was invited to return until the whole were finished, sometimes 40 nights.

The Power of a Cyclone.

Careful estimates of the force of a cyclone and the energy required to keep a full fledged hurricane in active operation reveal the presence of a power that makes the mightiest efforts of man appear as nothing in comparison.

A force fully equal to 478,000,000 horsepower was estimated as developed in a West Indian cyclone. This is about 15 times the power that is creatable by all the means within the range of man's capabilities during the same time.

Were steam, water, windmills and the strength of all men and all animals combined they could not at all approach the tremendous force exerted by this terrible storm.

A Barnum Surprise.

A good story of the late George Augustus Sala and Barnum is told. It was on the occasion of the last visit of the famous showman to England, when a public dinner was tendered to Mr Barnum. Mr Sala presided. In the reception room, where all were waiting to welcome the guest of the evening, Mr Barnum came in, beaming, and, shaking hands with the chairman, said:

"This is indeed a surprise to me.'

"Did you hear that?" Mr. Sala whispered. "Why, he arranged for the dinner himself."

A Literary Note.

"Your majesty," said the prime minister, "this is the page who has been remiss in his duty."

"Aha!" exclaimed the king. "We'll have to bring him to book."

"He! He!" laughed the page. "A noble jest. I'll be bound."

Thereupon the king's heart softened, for he marveled that a man so young could make so old a joke.—Catholic Standard and Times.

Afloat and Ashore.

Bill—How about that Sound steamer?

Jill—I guess she's all right. There's a rumor ashore that she's afloat.

Bill—That's good. I heard there was a rumor afloat that she was ashore.—Yonkers Statesman.

A Forgetful Spouse.

Mrs. Bilkins—I never saw such a forgetful man in my life as you are. The clock has stopped again.

Mr Bilkins—That's because you forgot to wind it.

Mrs. Bilkins—You know very well, Mr Bilkins, that I told you to remind me to wind it, and you forget about it.—New York Weekly.

Her Mistake.

"How did it happen that Miss Singleton refused to marry the young clergyman?'

"Why, when he proposed to her she, being a little deaf, thought he was asking her to subscribe to the organ fund. So she told him she had promised her money to some other mission."—Harper's Bazar.

Over 2,000,000 bottles, of the value of $35,000, are recovered each year from the dustyards in London and returned to their owners.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give any relief. I was able to be around all the time, but constantly suffering. I had tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did, and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured. I am happy to say that it has not since returned.—Josh Edgar, Germantown, Cal. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Yellow Jaundice Cured

Suffering humanity should be supplied with ezery means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we publish the following: "This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from yellow jaundice for over six months, and was treated by some of the best physicians in our city and all to no avail. Dr. Bell, our druggist, recommended Electric Bitters; and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured. I now take great pleasure in recommending them to any person suffering from this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours. M. A. Hogarty, Lexington, Ky." Sold by C. . Holton, druggist.

THE SENTRY DRANK.

But General Meade Did Not Happen to See Him Do It.

At a little village on the Susquehanna river I met an old soldier who related this incident of his experience with General Meade in the civil war. I have forgotten his name and the place where it occurred. It was a raw night in October, the wind was rather strong, and Meade had fixed a stove in his tent. The soldier was the sentry for the general. A puff of wind knocked down the improvised stovepipe, and soon the tent filled with smoke. The general came out and asked the sentry to help him to rearrange it. The soldier replied that he was under orders and could not leave his post.

"Yes, yes," said Meade, "that is true, but I would like to have that stovepipe fixed. You are right." And the general went at the job himself.

"I kept pacing my beat," said the soldier, "and enjoyed Meade's efforts to get the pipe back in its place. He made a sorry mess of it. Finally he turned to me and said: 'Sentry, you will have to help me. I will be responsible for you, and if there is any trouble about your leaving the beat I will explain to the officer.'

"In a few minutes we had the pipe in position. Meade disappeared into the tent without a word of thanks, but he soon came out with a jug of applejack and asked me to take a drink. Once more I reminded him I was on duty. 'Yes, yes,' he answered, 'I know, but you helped me to fix the stovepipe.'

"He turned on his heel and re-entered the tent, leaving the jug outside. After a time he came out.

"'Did you drink?' he inquired. I nodded.

"'I knew you would, but I did not see it.'"—Pittsburg Dispatch.

A DEADLY CANE.

An Innocent Looking Instrument Which Would Destroy Life.

"Anarchists of the physical force school find it now and again irresistible to brag of the powerful things they have used or are going to use," says a writer in The Ludgate. "We will suppose that some aristocratic person has been chosen as a victim. The exact pattern of his favorite walking stick would be noted as occasion arose and a fac simile of it prepared—that is to say, so far as mere outward appearances were concerned.

"The interior would really be an infernal machine. Inside the hollow of the stick would be a metal flask containing a liquid which could emerge only from a small orifice at the top of the flask. The flask would be imbedded within a substance which would explode the instant that the liquid referred to came into contact with it.

"When an opportunity occurred for the stick to be substituted for its innocent counterpart, the handle would be unscrewed to a slight extent, thus allowing a space for the liquid to flow out, which it would do when the stick was held in a horizontal position. Most men occasionally carry their sticks in this way. So, when the victim took his supposed usual stick from the corner in which it had been placed upright, he might walk about with it for a long period without encountering actual harm, but once let him hold it horizontally or twirl it in the air there would be—well, you can imagine the result."

Steeple Clock Dials.

Difficulty is experienced in accurately reading the time of elevated clocks on account of the distance between the minute hand and the figures. Seen from below, the apparent reading may be a minute or two wrong when the hand is not at 12 or 6 on account of this distance. The perspective throws the hand out of position and gives it an apparent upward position. On the first quarter this makes the reading slow, on the last quarter fast. A proposed method of correcting this is to make the clock face concave so that the tip of the hand will almost graze the figures. Then the time can be accurately read from below.

A Trick of Style.

A woman who declares she cannot afford to buy bound books invested in a Russia leather book cover the other day. It has pockets at the ends into which to slip the covers of the books one is reading. It is very handsome, and it cost $5.

When she wraps all this gorgeousness around a 10 cent copy of "Lorna Doone" or a 25 cent edition of "Pendennis," she is placid, happy and unashamed and doesn't think she was extravagant.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

A Weak Finish.

Little Frances—Papa, my teacher told me to ask you to tell me something about Victor Hugo. Tomorrow she wants me to tell the class what was the most important thing he ever did.

Papa (who pretends to know it all)—Victor Hugo founded the Hugonauts; but, say, tell your teacher I'm paying school taxes and I don't propose to have to do her work. Make her tell you about it herself and see how she likes it.—Chicago News.

"God Bless the Duke of Argyll."

"You Americans," said the Scotchman, "suffer from an itch for notoriety."

"An itch for notoriety," responded the American with spirit, "is better than a notoriety for"—

But at that point they clinched.—Indianapolis Journal.

Some boys in an English school were requested to write a short letter to the master. One youngster added a P. S., which ran, "Please excuse bad riting and spelling, as I avent been taut any beter."

We Bid for Your Business.

In bidding for your business we do so on the merits of our merchandise and the seasonableness of our prices. It goes without saying that no other house between the Two Big Rivers can show you one-fourth the variety that we do in the various lines we carry. We aim to carry the best the world produces in each particular line, but we do not lose sight of the fact that not every man or head of a family can afford to buy the best. Therefore we have carefully catered to the wants of the masses and we can assure the patrons of our house that the medium and cheaper grades to be found there are the best obtainable elsewhere in the union for the price we name. Our great purchasing power, coupled with our commercial courage, make these things possible. While our stock is not entirely complete, still with our buyer in New York and by shipping us every day only a few days will elapse before we will be able to present a solid front. The greatness of an opportuniiy depends upon the use you make of it. Here is one thrown at you—catch it. The pitchers are

Neat

The graceful, delicate and exceedingly neat compliment paid Lieutenant Dan Godfrey and his British Guard Band by the Marine Band of the United States at Washington, D. C, is one to be remembered by the gentlemen in scarlet.

While the act was graceful, delicate and neat, it could not surpass the exquisite harmony which is blended into our new patterns of Easter Neckwear of the famous Rufus Waterhouse make.
